

A Folger Pop-Up Exhibit:

Shakespeare's Westeros

Literary and Historical Inspirations for Game of Thrones

May 23, 2019

11am-2pm

Founders' Room

Celebrate (or mourn) the end of HBO's hit series,
Game of Thrones, with another pop-up exhibit.

Author George R. R. Martin points to many sources that inspired plots and characters in his book series, A Song of Ice and Fire (adapted into the Game of Thrones television series). He pulled from history and literature, much of which is represented in the Folger Collection. From Shakespeare's plays to English monarchs, the stories told by these objects will start to sound awfully familiar.

Free and open to the public!
